COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Dear Alumni & Friends of Mesa Community College,

As you read this annual report, the full meaning of why it's a fantastic time to be a part of Mesa Community College (MCC) should become readily apparent. In this, our 50th year of education, the vision that is being realized and the unparalleled support we have received mean that not only are we transforming the landscape of our beloved institution, we are preparing our students for the future in ways never before achievable at MCC.

The support provided by individual donors, organizations, families and corporations has been the key difference-maker. Our most ardent supporters know that investing in our college is about more than laying bricks and mortar. Philanthropic giving often translates to powerful and compelling learning experiences for our students – ones that open new doors to discover new possibilities, and ideas that alter lives and futures for the better.

Perhaps it's a gift that invests students with advanced tools, empowering technologies, or state-of-the-art learning environments. Or, perhaps it's investments in engaging faculty who recognize unseen potential in our students and ignite their passion for visualizing and touching their future, while instilling in them the courage to seize new opportunities in ways that transform. Whatever the investment is, the progress that has been achieved would not have been possible without our devoted donors and their commitment to making the vision of MCC's future a reality.

The work we do here every day propels us forward as a community, state, region, and nation. We know from history that an educated citizenry is the real wealth of nations. A simple truth is the higher the level of educational attainment, the greater the economic development opportunities for any state or nation. To that end, our donors clearly recognize the near-priceless value that a college education creates and that the most significant benefits accrue to our society and nation. Quite simply, history has proven irrefutably that no better investment can be made toward ensuring the security and future of our nation and people, than the investment we make as donors in advancing higher education and college degree attainment.

I humbly thank you for your loyal support of Mesa Community College and the confidence you continue to place in us.

Sincerely,

Shouan Pan, Ph.D., President

COLLEGE DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

It is an honor to present this annual report, which is one small way for us to thank and recognize all of MCC's donors who have provided philanthropic support to the College.

Total cash and pledge commitments to the College from all alumni, employee, retirees, friends and organizations topped $2.9 million for the 2013-2014 fiscal year, with the Scholarship Fund achieving a record $125 thousand in total commitments. Can you imagine the impact that all of these gifts, combined, have had on the men and women who pursue their education at MCC, and the further impact they will have on the world they will help lead?

Since 2011, MCC has been involved in one very important five-year campaign: the Student Success Campaign—with a goal of $5 million in gifts to support scholarships, faculty, and academic programs. As we continue to advance MCC's most important objectives during the final 12 months of this fundraising effort, we know it is due to your loyalty and support that our students and faculty are able to achieve their many successes.

I hope to meet many of you personally in the months and years to come. Until then, please know that all contributions to MCC, no matter the size, are bold statements of support to transform the world – one student at a time. I look forward to working with you to achieve your philanthropic goals and to leave your mark on the world by supporting the mission of MCC.

Yours very truly,

Jared A. Langkilde, MBA, Director of Development

COLLEGE DEVELOPMENT BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHAIR

Dear Friends,

I am pleased to present the 2014 Annual Report to Donors on the eve of the College's 50th anniversary. Gifts we receive go a long way to helping our students, faculty, programs, and facilities. To all who have given, thank you. To those of you who have thought about it, or who have thought what you do will not matter, I encourage you to read the stories of those whose generosity has had a meaningful impact. Gifts of all sizes do make a difference and will help the College fulfill its mission and reach our fundraising goal of $5 million.

Over the past year, President Pan has talked about the importance of student success, completion, and what it takes to be an exceptional College. Alumni and friends are excited about the direction and, like all of us who work closely with the College, are not intimidated by the nation's economic circumstances. We believe in the mission of Mesa Community College to provide quality education and training that is accessible and affordable through which our communities will thrive for the next 50 years and beyond.

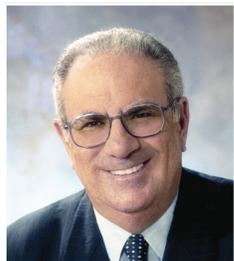

Each and every one of you has a story of success that is, in some small or big way, grounded in the education you received. What you learned, no matter how long ago, has much to do with the visionaries of your time...the ones who believed that students deserved the best well-rounded and balanced education taught by the finest faculty without being saddled with a life-time of student loan debt. I hope this year you will see yourselves as visionary for MCC, and help us achieve our goals.

Sincerely,

Steve Adams, Owner, Alphagraphics, Mesa, Tempe, Phoenix

FOUNDATION PRESIDENT & CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Dear Friends and Supporters of MCC:

I don't know how I could possibly begin a message to supporters of Mesa Community College any other way than by saying congratulations!

Congratulations on the College's 50th anniversary! What a significant milestone and what a wonderful time to reflect on what the College has meant to the Mesa community, and on the impact it has had on hundreds-of-thousands of students and their families over half-a-century.

At the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation we are both proud and honored to partner with Mesa Community College, to steward the gifts that come to the Foundation on Mesa's behalf, to invest that money and see it grow, and to spend it in accordance with donor wishes. And while I'm not big on self-congratulations, we had a pretty good year, too. Our Campaign for Student Success has now crossed the $21 million mark. Our endowment (from where most scholarship money comes) grew from $33 million to $38 million over the last year and we provided over $2.1 million in scholarships to more than 2000 students in the Maricopa Community Colleges. Thank you—and congratulations—for helping to make that possible.

We look forward to continuing our partnership with Mesa and with all of you, to provide support for students for the next 50 years.

Sincerely,

Steven R. Helfgot, Ed.D., President & CEO

MISSION AND VISION STATEMENTS

MISSION

The Office of Development at Mesa Community College builds a compelling case for choice and support among all of its constituents by communicating and advocating for the College's distinctive regional position, role, and contributions, thus forging relationships and securing commitments that make MCC exceptional and advances the mission and priorities of the College, the Maricopa Community College District, and the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation.

VISION

The vision of the Office of Development at Mesa Community College is to be recognized for a pivotal leadership role in:

- ▶ Transforming MCC into a high-access college of choice with distinction.
- ▶ Generating prospective student interest and affinity leading to record high enrollment.
- ▶ Garnering statewide and national recognition for MCC as model of educational innovation.
- ▶ Building a college endowment that underwrites and ensures the success of the College's quest to be exceptional, excellent and a distinctive institution of teaching and learning.
- ▶ Positioning MCC as steward of the region's future and human capital, worthy of global business and industry support and collaboration.
- ▶ Cultivating the College's most valuable and powerful strategic relationships among business, community, educational, cultural, and political leaders.
- ▶ Planning and executing history-making, record-breaking comprehensive fundraising campaigns.

SHERRI BALYOZ

Single Mom Overcomes Adversity

In her early 30's, Sherri Balyoz found herself divorced and raising two young children on her own. With only a high school degree, she was cleaning houses and receiving food stamps to make ends meet.

It didn't take Sherri long to realize she wanted a different life for herself and her family. She explains, "I didn't want to raise my children in poverty. I knew that was a dead end road. That's why I decided to go back to school to become a nurse, for steady employment and a good paying job."

Sherri needed to get through school quickly, get hired quickly, and keep expenses low. Through a combination of scholarships from our Student Scholarship Fund, grants, and student loans, she was able to work part-time, take care of her children, and finish school. She remembers anxiously looking for her name on a list of the Student Scholarship Fund recipients, which were posted twice a year. Each scholarship made a big difference helping her pay her bills.

In high school, Sherri admits she wasn't focused and got involved with the wrong type of people. She explains, "When I got to MCC, I was an adult and I knew that my future and my children's future depended on me getting an education. So I was very dedicated and did what I needed to do to get through."

Today, Sherri is financially independent and an inspiration to us all. After graduating with honors, she was hired as a nurse in a hospital, working nights and weekends. From there, she worked in a doctor's office, followed by an insurance company. Today, Sherri is a certified case manager, has a nursing license in two states, and owns a investment business.

When Sherri started taking classes at MCC, her son was two years old and her daughter was three weeks old. She acknowledges that her time at MCC wasn't just for her, but for them and their future. She set an example, instilling the value of getting an education. Sherri's daughter, now 20-years-old, is studying engineering at a local university, and her son, 22-years-old, is taking classes here at a Community College towards a nursing degree.

Sherri deeply appreciates the scholarships she received during her student days at MCC, recognizing that it ultimately made it possible for her to become financially independent.

ARON MIXSON

Homeless to Entrepreneur

Aron Mixson came to MCC determined to change his life for the better. He knew it wouldn't be easy, but then again, nothing was easy for Aron, with a mother struggling with a drug addiction and a father he never met. Aron's home life had always been unstable, being adopted twice and finally ending up in a children's group home. When he turned 18, he was asked to leave the group home, dropped out of high school, and moved to a homeless shelter.

Undaunted by the lack of stability and family support, Aron forged ahead. He got a job at Taco Bell, passed the G.E.D. (high school equivalency test) and became a manager at the restaurant. Seeing a brighter future ahead, he applied for financial aid for college, and started taking classes at MCC.

Everything for Aron seemed to be falling into place ... that is, until his father died. Aron explains, "I never knew the man, but it hit me hard when he passed away because I was never able to ask him any questions. And so my life took a downward spiral and consequently I defaulted on my loans and dropped out of school."

For five years, Aron struggled to make it on his own. He says, "I tried to get myself out there business-wise, but without an education, it was hard." During this time, he worked for a good friend and mentor who owned a moving company. His friend encouraged Aron to go back to school — even giving him the money to file the application. It was a turning point for Aron.

Having someone on your side during challenging times can make a profound difference. When Aron returned to school, he had a new attitude. "I decided not to let life push me any which way it wanted. I still didn't have a great life at the time, but I knew that getting back to school would start me on the right path to a brighter future."

Aron is grateful for the support he has received from his friend at the moving company and also for his professors and advisors. He says, "Just by them being a part of my life ... them being concerned ... making sure I was getting the right tutors ... they were right there with me, making sure I graduated."

Aron graduated in May 2014 with a double major in Computer Science and an Associate of Arts, and he is the first in his family to graduate from college. Today, he is back in school, working toward a bachelor's degree in software engineering at a local university and taking some of the math and science core classes at MCC, with the help of a student scholarship.

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

LORI BOTTOMLEY

This scholarship came at a time when I wasn't sure if I would be able to continue my education at the pace I had chosen due to financial concerns. I am excited for this opportunity to continue pursuing my goals. Thank you for placing your trust in me and helping me to see that I am a valued member of this community. I look forward to the day I can send that same message to the students I will have the opportunity of teaching. Thank you so very much!

▶ Sincerely, Lori Bottomley

EARNESTINE CURRY

I would like to thank all of the donors for their contribution to my educational success. I am honored to be a recipient of this award and to be a student of Mesa Community College. Having come to college for the first time at age 50 is the best decision that I made for myself in a long time. This experience has absolutely changed my life, and because of the exceptional staff and faculty here, it is with humility that I accept this award. Thank you for choosing me and letting me know how important it is to always do my very best and strive for excellence.

▶ Thank you, Earnestine Curry

DIANA QUINONES

I am extremely grateful for this scholarship award and would like to thank everyone who was able to make this possible for me and my family. Finances is something I am currently struggling with and now I can put my stress at ease and fix my computer and buy the necessary supplies I need to improve my education. Getting selected to receive a scholarship gives me the extra energy and encouragement I need to continue my academic journey. Thank you again from the bottom of my heart!

▶ Diana Quinones

CINDY WONG

I want to say a BIG thank you for assisting me in my educational expenses. It is because of this scholarship that I do not have to worry about the majority of my tuition this semester. Instead I can devote my energy and time to my studies and my family. This is my last semester at MCC before I graduate and transfer to ASU. I can focus on maintaining my 4.0 GPA and graduating with honors. Thank you from the bottom of my heart for your incredible generosity! I know that a college education is a privilege and I absolutely do not take it for granted.

$2,000,000 STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWMENT FUND

MCC's large enrollment puts a significant strain on the ability to assist deserving students with the financial burden that college expenses too often bring. This initiative is critical to ensuring access to a college education and recognition of superior academic achievement.

$1,000,000 ENDOWED TEACHING CHAIRS

This priority will provide the resources to recognize and reward selected faculty who demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as funding for professional growth opportunities and course-related classroom equipment and supplies to enhance the learning experience for our students.

$2,000,000 MCC PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

The new Performing Arts Center will be the heartbeat of a new cultural renaissance for our students, faculty and our community. The centerpiece of the new facility is a 462 seat multipurpose performance space designed to accommodate a broad range of recitals and concerts.

AFP Code of Ethical Principles and Standards

ETHICAL PRINCIPLES • Adopted 1964; amended Sept. 2007

The Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) exists to foster the development and growth of fundraising professionals and the profession, to promote high ethical behavior in the fundraising profession and to preserve and enhance philanthropy and volunteerism. Members of AFP are motivated by an inner drive to improve the quality of life through the causes they serve. They serve the ideal of philanthropy, are committed to the preservation and enhancement of volunteerism; and hold stewardship of these concepts as the overriding direction of their professional life. They recognize their responsibility to ensure that needed resources are vigorously and ethically sought and that the intent of the donor is honestly fulfilled. To these ends, AFP members, both individual and business, embrace certain values that they strive to uphold in performing their responsibilities for generating philanthropic support. AFP business members strive to promote and protect the work and mission of their client organizations.

AFP members both individual and business aspire to:

- practice their profession with integrity, honesty, truthfulness and adherence to the absolute obligation to safeguard the public trust
- act according to the highest goals and visions of their organizations, professions, clients and consciences
- put philanthropic mission above personal gain;
- inspire others through their own sense of dedication and high purpose
- improve their professional knowledge and skills, so that their performance will better serve others
- demonstrate concern for the interests and well-being of individuals affected by their actions
- value the privacy, freedom of choice and interests of all those affected by their actions
- foster cultural diversity and pluralistic values and treat all people with dignity and respect
- affirm, through personal giving, a commitment to philanthropy and its role in society
- adhere to the spirit as well as the letter of all applicable laws and regulations
- advocate within their organizations adherence to all applicable laws and regulations
- avoid even the appearance of any criminal offense or professional misconduct
- bring credit to the fundraising profession by their public demeanor
- encourage colleagues to embrace and practice these ethical principles and standards
- be aware of the codes of ethics promulgated by other professional organizations that serve philanthropy

ETHICAL STANDARDS

Furthermore, while striving to act according to the above values, AFP members, both individual and business, agree to abide (and to ensure, to the best of their ability, that all members of their staff abide) by the AFP standards. Violation of the standards may subject the member to disciplinary sanctions, including expulsion, as provided in the AFP Ethics Enforcement Procedures.

MEMBER OBLIGATIONS

1. Members shall not engage in activities that harm the members' organizations, clients or profession.
2. Members shall not engage in activities that conflict with their fiduciary, ethical and legal obligations to their organizations, clients or profession.
3. Members shall effectively disclose all potential and actual conflicts of interest; such disclosure does not preclude or imply ethical impropriety.
4. Members shall not exploit any relationship with a donor, prospect, volunteer, client or employee for the benefit of the members or the members' organizations.
5. Members shall comply with all applicable local, state, provincial and federal civil and criminal laws.
6. Members recognize their individual boundaries of competence and are forthcoming and truthful about their professional experience and qualifications and will represent their achievements accurately and without exaggeration.
7. Members shall present and supply products and/or services honestly and without misrepresentation and will clearly identify the details of those products, such as availability of the products and/or services and other factors that may affect the suitability of the products and/or services for donors, clients or nonprofit organizations.
8. Members shall establish the nature and purpose of any contractual relationship at the outset and will be responsive and available to organizations and their employing organizations before, during and after any sale of materials and/or services. Members will comply with all fair and reasonable obligations created by the contract.

9. Members shall refrain from knowingly infringing the intellectual property rights of other parties at all times. Members shall address and rectify any inadvertent infringement that may occur.
10. Members shall protect the confidentiality of all privileged information relating to the provider/client relationships.
11. Members shall refrain from any activity designed to disparage competitors untruthfully.

SOLICITATION AND USE OF PHILANTHROPIC FUNDS

12. Members shall take care to ensure that all solicitation and communication materials are accurate and correctly reflect their organizations' mission and use of solicited funds.
13. Members shall take care to ensure that donors receive informed, accurate and ethical advice about the value and tax implications of contributions.
14. Members shall take care to ensure that contributions are used in accordance with donors' intentions.
15. Members shall take care to ensure proper stewardship of all revenue sources, including timely reports on the use and management of such funds.
16. Members shall obtain explicit consent by donors before altering the conditions of financial transactions.

PRESENTATION OF INFORMATION

17. Members shall not disclose privileged or confidential information to unauthorized parties.
18. Members shall adhere to the principle that all donor and prospect information created by, or on behalf of, an organization or a client is the property of that organization or client and shall not be transferred or utilized except on behalf of that organization or client.
19. Members shall give donors and clients the opportunity to have their names removed from lists that are sold to, rented to or exchanged with other organizations.
20. Members shall, when stating fundraising results, use accurate and consistent accounting methods that conform to the appropriate guidelines adopted by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA)* for the type of organization involved. (* In countries outside of the United States, comparable authority should be utilized.)

COMPENSATION AND CONTRACTS

21. Members shall not accept compensation or enter into a contract that is based on a percentage of contributions; nor shall members accept finder's fees or contingent fees. Business members must refrain from receiving compensation from third parties derived from products or services for a client without disclosing that third-party compensation to the client (for example, volume rebates from vendors to business members).
22. Members may accept performance-based compensation, such as bonuses, provided such bonuses are in accord with prevailing practices within the members' own organizations and are not based on a percentage of contributions.
23. Members shall neither offer nor accept payments or special considerations for the purpose of influencing the selection of products or services.
24. Members shall not pay finder's fees, commissions or percentage compensation based on contributions, and shall take care to discourage their organizations from making such payments.
25. Any member receiving funds on behalf of a donor or client must meet the legal requirements for the disbursement of those funds. Any interest or income earned on the funds should be fully disclosed.

Office of Development

A DONOR BILL OF RIGHTS

PHILANTHROPY is based on voluntary action for the common good. It is a tradition of giving and sharing that is primary to the quality of life. To assure that philanthropy merits the respect and trust of the general public, and that donors and prospective donors can have full confidence in the not-for-profit organizations and causes they are asked to support, we declare that all donors have these rights:

- I. To be informed of the organization's mission, of the way the organization intends to use donated resources, and of its capacity to use donations effectively for their intended purposes.
- II. To be informed of the identity of those serving on the organization's governing board, and to expect the board to exercise prudent judgment in its stewardship responsibilities.
- III. To have access to the organization's most recent financial statements.
- IV. To be assured their gifts will be used for the purposes for which they were given.
- V. To receive appropriate acknowledgement and recognition.
- VI. To be assured that information about their donations is handled with respect and with confidentiality to the extent provided by law.
- VII. To expect that all relationships with individuals representing organizations of interest to the donor will be professional in nature.
- VIII. To be informed whether those seeking donations are volunteers, employees of the organization or hired solicitors.
- IX. To have the opportunity for their names to be deleted from mailing lists that an organization may intend to share.
- X. To feel free to ask questions when making a donation and to receive prompt, truthful and forthright answers.
