

OCT. 25-THURSDAY

Tour the Virtual Incident Command Center: Mesa Community College's Downtown Center will hold an open house for community members to tour this state-of-the-art facility and learn how VICC is advancing educational opportunities. VICC provides the most true-to-life incident command training through customizable simulations that immerses participants in a virtual environment so they can prepare for all natural and man-made disasters, including structure fires, wild land fires, terrorist events, floods, hostage situations, railroad accidents, structural collapses, and hazardous materials spills. Projection screens allow the user to view the incident from multiple vantage points. The VICC is host to numerous trainings for local, state and national organizations. Those wishing to attend the event on Thursday, Oct. 25, at 145 North Centennial Way may RSVP by calling 480-461-7475.
