Almost 1300 years ago Abd al-Rahman launched one of the truly great moments of human history, and called it Al Andalus. For 750 years, Muslims, Jews and Christians lived a time of “convivencia.” The memory of that time is very much alive in modern Andalucía, the southern region of Spain.

Spend four weeks in the Granada, set against the snow-capped Sierra Nevada mountains. Study the history and the culture with professors from MCC & the University of Granada, immersed in “la Vida Española” of flamenco, soccer, bullfights, Mediterranean beaches, tapas and café con leche.
Courses Offered \textit{(may vary year to year)}

You'll take one MCC class and one class from the University of Granada. UGr courses may then be transferred to MCC for credit.

- REL 243 World Religions
- UGr: Spanish Civilization
- SPA 201 Intermediate Spanish I
- UGr: Art & Architecture of the Islamic World

Excursions \textit{(may vary year to year)}

We will take three major Friday excursions:

- The Alhambra (Granada’s palace/fort/garden)
- Córdoba (The Great Mosque and Alcázar)
- Sevilla (The Cathedral and Royal Palace)

The Alhambra and Córdoba are UNESCO World Heritage sites. Of course, we have many smaller formal and informal outings around Granada.

Financial Aid:

www.mesacc.edu/students/financialaid

Scholarships:

www.mesacc.edu/studyabroad/scholarships

For more information:

Tom Shoemaker
Mesa Community College
Phone: (480) 461-7009
Email: tomshoemaker@mesacc.edu
mesacc.edu/andalucia and mesacc.edu/studyabroad