Earn your share of $3,000 in scholarships that will be awarded at the American Indian Academic Conference. Write a 750 word MLA research paper or produce an original, short documentary video that answers this research question:

What is the most significant environmental issue affecting American Indian tribes today, and what should be done about it?

Students will present their winning papers or documentaries at the American Indian Academic Conference at MCC on April 12, 2018. The conference will take place at 12:30 p.m. in the Southwest Reading Room in the MCC library.

In order to receive more details about the scholarship competition, including complete rules and instructions about how to enter, please enroll in our Canvas site for the American Indian Academic Scholarship Conference.

It's easy and it's FREE! Just go to the following URL and follow the instructions:

https://learn.maricopa.edu/enroll/MAGG6H

Sign in today to begin planning your paper or documentary.

Entry deadline: Thursday, April 5th, 2018 at 5:00 p.m.

Once you've registered, you’ll receive all the information you need to begin writing a paper or creating a documentary. You'll also receive updates about the scholarship competition and have access to faculty leaders who can answer your questions.

Students must be full-time at MCC, maintain a 2.0 GPA, and be a member of a federal or state recognized tribe. See our Canvas site for complete rules and requirements.

Director: Professor Eddie Webb, Keetoowah, English Department 480 461-7835, Professor Charlie Morris, English Department 480 461-7514

American Indian Institute Jim Larney, 461-7998

Sponsored by the MCC English Department in cooperation with American Indian Institute.

A Maricopa Community College. The Maricopa County Community College District is an EEO/AA institution and an equal opportunity employer of protected veterans and individuals with disabilities.