My name is Megan and I was once the recipient of one of MCC’s scholarships. When I was 18 years old, I was transitioning from a group home to independent living. I had lost my mother at the age of 12 and had been in shelters and group homes as a ward of the state of AZ. I had dropped out of high school my senior year— I had a CPS case worker that told me I moved around between group homes too much to get the credits to graduate. I asked her, “How will I go to college?” Her response was, “You are a CPS kid. You need to think about getting a job and how you are going to survive, not college.” When I turned 18 and “graduated” from the system, I was given $345 and wished good luck. I was living in a small apartment down the street from Mesa Community College and worked full-time at Red Lobster and part-time at a record store. During this time, I finished my high school diploma, as I only had 2 classes that I needed. Then, in January 2004, I enrolled at MCC with one Intro to Philosophy class.

I received the Pell Grant as an independent student, but this was not enough money to offset the hours I had to cut at work in order to take a full load of classes. At the time that I was told I would be the recipient of one of MCC’s Scholarships, I was struggling with the decision of dropping out of college so I could work the hours I needed to pay my bills. I kept hearing the case worker’s voice, “You need to think about how you are going to survive.” I remember receiving the letter in the mail, and I felt like it was a last-minute reprieve. The scholarship was enough money to allow me to pre-pay my apartment rent for a couple of months, which allowed me to stay in school with reduced work hours. That boost meant that my education did not have to stop.

Since then, I finished my Associates in Social Work at MCC. My experience with CPS made me determined to help people live to their potential in spite of their circumstances. I transferred to ASU in August 2008, and graduated with my Bachelors in Social Work in May 2010. I did my Masters in Social Work the following year, graduating in May 2011. My Masters’ thesis was a case study of a patient I had that struggled with a rare eating disorder, diabetes bulimia, and the therapeutic interventions used while she was hospitalized at my internship site at Scottsdale HealthCare- Osborn. I also contributed to a professor’s textbook, Human Behavior in the Social Environment, which is used in undergraduate social work programs throughout the country. I applied to and was accepted into the Doctor of Behavioral Health program at ASU, as their youngest student. Because of the recommendations of my Masters’ professors, I was granted permission to get my doctorate in an accelerated program. This required me to take 6-7 classes a semester as well as complete my dissertation research simultaneously. My research was completed at John C. Lincoln – North Mountain Hospital, and consisted of providing brief therapy and motivational interviewing to patients with diabetes who have frequent hospital admissions, in an effort to increase their motivation and self-efficacy in managing their chronic conditions. My dissertation was “Best in Class” and is used as an example for incoming students as to how their research should look. I graduated as a Doctor in Behavioral Health in December 2012.

I am now working at Banner Thunderbird Medical Center. I am on a medical/surgical unit that is specifically for the behavioral health population, and it is my responsibility in keeping them safe mentally and emotionally while they are being treated here. Please know that the scholarship from MCC came at a very significant time in my life, and if I had not received that letter, on that day, I likely would have withdrawn from college and continued to live a life that was far below my potential. I thank you, not only on behalf of myself, but on behalf of all the students you have helped over the years and those who will benefit in the future. What you do, matters. Thank you, thank you, thank you!!

~Megan Maurino, Ph.D., LMSW
After being accepted to, but unable to attend the University of Saskatchewan due to severe lack of educational and living expense funds, Mesa Community College was my second chance at an attainable post-secondary education. During my freshman year, though federal grants paid for a large portion of my classes and books, I struggled financially and was pulled between working more hours and focusing more of my energy on school. This Scholarship will not only help me focus on my studies with less financial strain, but it will also allow me to complete both my under and post graduate programs with substantially less debt and allow me to begin impacting Native American and other in-need families sooner through counseling and other therapeutic methods.

Thank you again for your great service and faithfulness in contributing to the needs of humanity. In joyous expectancy, I hope to one day stand where you are and be able to give back as well. ~Dominique Hunter

Thank you for the MCC Scholarship. This amazing gift brightened my day, and it continues to brighten my educational dream. Your generous donation will assist me in completing my final year of nursing school. As a single mother of two children with cystic fibrosis, life is constantly a challenge. My children have seen my challenges as well as the advantages of me continuing my education in the medical industry.

Your gift provides me with assistance to continue my educational goals of completing the nursing program and becoming a nurse so I am able to provide more for my children as well as have more skills to assist in my community. Thank you for your wonderful contribution in my educational success, your thoughtfulness means so much to me and my family. ~Hetter Fuller

It was such an exciting surprise to receive an MCC scholarship. As an older student who wears many hats: mother, wife, respite care giver, volunteer, etc. there never seems to be enough time or money and your gift could not have come at a better time. Your gift has also given me a fresh boost of confidence—if individuals, whom I have never met, are willing to invest in my education then I will too. I now have that much more motivation to complete my program of study. Thank you for choosing me as a recipient for this MCC scholarship, it was much needed and appreciated. ~Dayna Jones

STEVE HELFGOT, ED.D.
Thank you for supporting Mesa Community College! Your financial support has a huge impact on our students and, in turn, on our community. With challenging economic conditions, many of our students struggle to finance their college education. Your gift can help ease students’ financial burdens and allow them to concentrate on their academic studies.

At Mesa Community, student success drives our strategic focuses and guides our daily operation. Undoubtedly, student success means community success when our students complete four-year or advanced degrees at transfer institutions; when our graduates successfully assume careers in technology, healthcare, business, and education; when they solve community issues and contribute to its vitality as leaders.

Guided by our mission of enabling student success in our local and global community, MCC faculty and staff enable student success through an unrelenting focus on excellence in teaching and learning. We work to achieve our mission in partnerships with you, and because of you.

In a knowledge-based global economy, the welfare of our community is connected, to no small extent, to the educational level of its citizens. We will continue to provide high-quality and affordable learning and training opportunities for all, through an open access. Your support of our efforts will not only make the difference in students’ lives, it enriches our community for generations to come. For that, we are grateful!

Sincerely,

Shouan Pan, Ph.D., President, Mesa Community College

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Every day, thousands of students find opportunity, support and the keys to success at Mesa Community College.

This semester, a struggling single mother achieved her dream to become a nurse. An aspiring engineer, impressed by the faculty he met on his first visit, enrolled in the Electronics Engineering Technology program and discovered his ideal career path. For both of these students, scholarships were critical to their success and helped them reach their goals.

The generosity from donors like you are key to transforming the institution by making it possible to support needy and talented students with scholarships through degree attainment rather than semester by semester, retain and recruit the best teachers, and support programs in ways that make them truly world-class.

MCC’s fundraising campaign, a part of the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation $50 million Campaign, will raise $5,000,000 for MCC’s first ever general endowment fund which will support scholarships, instruction, and programs. Today, more than ever, your support is critical to fulfilling our institutional mission of teaching and learning! Know that your financial contributions do more good for more people, affecting more generations than anywhere else. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jared A. Langkilde, M.B.A., Director of Development, Mesa Community College
LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT & CEO OF THE MARICOPA COMMUNITY COLLEGES FOUNDATION

Dear Friends and Supporters of Mesa Community College:

First from all of us at the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation let me wish you the happiest of new years and offer our best wishes for a year of health, happiness and success.

Each new year does feel like a new beginning and as we pick up the work of supporting students and programs at the Maricopa Community Colleges, in this new year, I am reminded that we could not do that work—indeed there would be no work to do—without the generous and ongoing support we get from you, our donors. So to each of you and to all of you our most sincere and heartfelt thanks for your generosity. That generosity means everything to us, to Mesa Community College and mostly to the students who directly benefit. You truly make a difference in “changing lives and building futures.”

For our Foundation Board and staff I also want to thank you for the trust you place in us to invest and manage the money you give us to support students and programs and to spend that money in compliance with your wishes and consistent with the purpose for which you gave it. There is no responsibility that we take more seriously and no greater satisfaction for us than in knowing that your money is being well managed and being used as you intended.

Finally we hope that your enthusiasm for what we do and your trust in our ability to do it will continue through our current Educating Our Community, Ensuring Our Future campaign, the largest in the history of the Maricopa Community Colleges. Mesa Community College has great projects in the campaign, important to students, to the college and to the community. I hope you’ll take a look at those projects and offer the college the support it so richly deserves.

Sincerely,

Steve Helfgot, Ed.D., President & CEO, Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation

LETTER FROM THE DEVELOPMENT BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHAIR

2013 has been an exciting and productive year at Mesa Community College. The college has, in conjunction with the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation, launched a $5M fundraising campaign that focuses on several areas of greatest importance to the growth and development of MCC in the forthcoming years. These initiatives are critical to ensuring access to a college education and recognition of both superior academic achievement and recognition of outstanding teaching that enhances the learning experience.

The $2M Student Scholarship Endowment campaign is crucial to assisting many deserving students. To recognize excellence in teaching, a $1M endowed teaching chair fund will reward instructors who bring innovation to the classroom. Our new 462 seat Performing Arts Center will be the heartbeat of a new cultural renaissance for our students and community. MCC will also be reaffirming its commitment to economic revitalization with the new Entrepreneurship Center.

All of these initiatives are made possible with the generous support of our donors. As Chair of MCC’s Development Board, I want to thank you for your commitment to the students of Mesa Community College.

Sincerely,

Steve Adams, Owner, Alphagraphics, Mesa, Tempe, Phoenix

The above information has been summarized from financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2013. The Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation is audited annually by an independent public accounting firm.
$2,000,000 STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP ENDOWMENT FUND
MCC’s large enrollment puts a significant strain on the ability to assist deserving students with the financial burden that college expenses too often bring. This initiative is critical to ensuring access to a college education and recognition of superior academic achievement.

$1,000,000 ENDOWED TEACHING CHAIRS
This fund provides the resources to selected faculty who demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as funding for professional growth opportunities and course-related classroom equipment and supplies to enhance the learning experience for our students.

$2,000,000 MCC PERFORMING ARTS CENTER
The new Performing Arts Center will be the heartbeat of a new cultural renaissance for our students, faculty and our community. The centerpiece of the new facility is a 462 seat multipurpose performance space designed to accommodate a broad range of recitals and concerts.

WORLD CLASS MCC ENTREPRENEURSHIP CENTER
The new Center is a stepping stone to small business success through courses targeted to the needs of the smaller venture and serves as a starting point for other technical, financial and consulting services for the small business community.

The Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) exists to foster the development and growth of fundraising professionals and the profession, to promote high ethical behavior in the fundraising profession and to preserve and enhance philanthropy and voluntarism. Members of AFP are motivated by an inner drive to improve the quality of life through the causes they serve. They serve the ideal of philanthropy, are committed to the preservation and enhancement of volunteerism; and hold stewardship of these concepts as the overriding direction of their professional life. They recognize their responsibility to ensure that needed resources are vigorously and ethically sought and that the intent of the donor is honestly fulfilled. To these ends, AFP members, both individual and business, embrace certain values that they strive to uphold in performing their responsibilities for generating philanthropic support. AFP business members strive to promote and protect the work and mission of their client organizations.

ETHICAL STANDARDS

Furthermore, while striving to act according to the above values, AFP members, both individual and business, agree to abide (and to ensure, to the best of their ability, that all members of their staff abide) by the AFP standards. Violation of the standards may subject the member to disciplinary sanctions, including expulsion, as provided in the AFP Ethics Enforcement Procedures.

MEMBER OBLIGATIONS

1. Members shall not engage in activities that harm the members’ organizations, clients or profession.
2. Members shall not engage in activities that conflict with their fiduciary, ethical and legal obligations to their organizations, clients or profession.
3. Members shall effectively disclose all potential and actual conflicts of interest; such disclosure does not preclude or imply ethical impropriety.
4. Members shall not exploit any relationship with a donor, prospect, volunteer, client or employee for the benefit of the members or the members’ organizations.
5. Members shall comply with all applicable local, state, provincial and federal civil and criminal laws.
6. Members recognize their individual boundaries of competence and are forthcoming and truthful about their professional experience and qualifications and will represent their achievements accurately and without exaggeration.
7. Members shall present and supply products and/or services honestly and without misrepresentation and will clearly identify the details of those products, such as availability of the products and/or services and other factors that may affect the suitability of the products and/or services for donors, clients or nonprofit organizations.
8. Members shall establish the nature and purpose of any contractual relationship at the outset and will be responsive and available to organizations and their employing organizations before, during and after any sale of materials and/or services. Members will comply with all fair and reasonable obligations created by the contract.

ETHICAL PRINCIPLES • Adopted 1964; amended Sept. 2007

The ethical principles set forth below are intended to guide and direct the actions of members of the Association of Fundraising Professionals. They are intended to provide a foundation of ethical behavior against which members can judge their actions. These ethical principles are not intended to, or can they, create legal or professional obligations for members. They are not intended to, or can they, create ethical obligations for members outside the fundraising profession. The ethical principles and related standards are not intended to imply any legal status or interpretation of the lawyer. The ethical principles and related standards are not intended to, or can they, imply any legal status or interpretation of the lawyer.

9. Members shall refrain from knowingly infringing the intellectual property rights of other parties at all times. Members shall address and rectify any inadvertent infringement that may occur.
10. Members shall protect the confidentiality of all privileged information relating to the provider/client relationships.
11. Members shall refrain from any activity designed to disparage competitors untruthfully.

SOLICITATION AND USE OF PHILANTHROPIC FUNDS

12. Members shall take care to ensure that all solicitation and communication materials are accurate and correctly reflect their organizations’ mission and use of solicited funds.
13. Members shall take care to ensure that donors receive informed, accurate and ethical advice about the value and tax implications of contributions.
14. Members shall take care to ensure that contributions are used in accordance with donors’ intentions.
15. Members shall take care to ensure proper stewardship of all revenue sources, including timely reports on the use and management of such funds.
16. Members shall obtain explicit consent by donors before altering the conditions of financial transactions.

PRESENTATION OF INFORMATION

17. Members shall not disclose privileged or confidential information to unauthorized parties.
18. Members shall adhere to the principle that all donor and prospect information created by, or on behalf of, an organization or a client is the property of that organization or client and shall not be transferred or utilized except on behalf of that organization or client.
19. Members shall give donors and clients the opportunity to have their names removed from lists that are sold to, rented to or exchanged with other organizations.
20. Members shall, when stating fundraising results, use accurate and consistent accounting methods that conform to the appropriate guidelines adopted by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA)* for the type of organization involved. (* In countries outside of the United States, comparable authority should be utilized.)

COMPENSATION AND CONTRACTS

21. Members shall not accept compensation or enter into a contract that is based on a percentage of contributions; nor shall members accept finder’s fees or contingent fees. Business members must refrain from receiving compensation from third parties derived from products or services for a client without disclosing that third-party compensation to the client (for example, volume rebates from vendors to business members).
22. Members may accept performance-based compensation, such as bonuses, provided such bonuses are in accord with prevailing practices within the members’ own organizations and are not based on a percentage of contributions.
23. Members shall neither offer nor accept payments or special considerations for the purpose of influencing the selection of products or services.
24. Members shall not pay finder’s fees, commissions or percentage compensation based on contributions, and shall take care to discourage their organizations from making such payments.
25. Any member receiving funds on behalf of a donor or client must meet the legal requirements for the disbursement of those funds. Any interest or income earned on the funds should be fully disclosed.
A DONOR BILL OF RIGHTS

PHILANTHROPY is based on voluntary action for the common good. It is a tradition of giving and sharing that is primary to the quality of life. To assure that philanthropy merits the respect and trust of the general public, and that donors and prospective donors can have full confidence in the not-for-profit organizations and causes they are asked to support, we declare that all donors have these rights:

I. To be informed of the organization’s mission, of the way the organization intends to use donated resources, and of its capacity to use donations effectively for their intended purposes.

II. To be informed of the identity of those serving on the organization’s governing board, and to expect the board to exercise prudent judgment in its stewardship responsibilities.

III. To have access to the organization’s most recent financial statements.

IV. To be assured their gifts will be used for the purposes for which they were given.

V. To receive appropriate acknowledgement and recognition.

VI. To be assured that information about their donations is handled with respect and with confidentiality to the extent provided by law.

VII. To expect that all relationships with individuals representing organizations of interest to the donor will be professional in nature.

VIII. To be informed whether those seeking donations are volunteers, employees of the organization or hired solicitors.

IX. To have the opportunity for their names to be deleted from mailing lists that an organization may intend to share.

X. To feel free to ask questions when making a donation and to receive prompt, truthful and forthright answers.
